Instruction

Community Resource People

Presentations by community resource people will: \

- align with the goals of Southeast Technical College and the appropriate curriculum
- match the program needs of the students

The presentation may not reflect adversely on any group or person because of their race, color, religion, creed, ancestry, gender, sexual orientation, national origin, age, disability or occupation.

Instructors must remain with students during presentations. Instructors or administrators are required to interrupt or suspend a presentation if the content is in conflict with this policy. Instructors will report any such incidences to the supervising administrator.
